Real Strategies. Measurable Results. Lasting Growth.

Use the following three websites for reference:

1. https://www.taskrabbit.com/
2. https://holdenroofing.com/
3. https://www.jw.com/

For each website, create a layout with three sections displayed side by side:

1. Search Engine Results Page (SERP): Show how the website appears in Google search results.

(Show an image of how the website appears in Google search results, including 1–5 relevant keywords for each website. Display the keywords along with their corresponding search result positions (rankings) to make them easy to compare.)

2. Website Preview: Show a preview of the website on desktop and mobile devices.

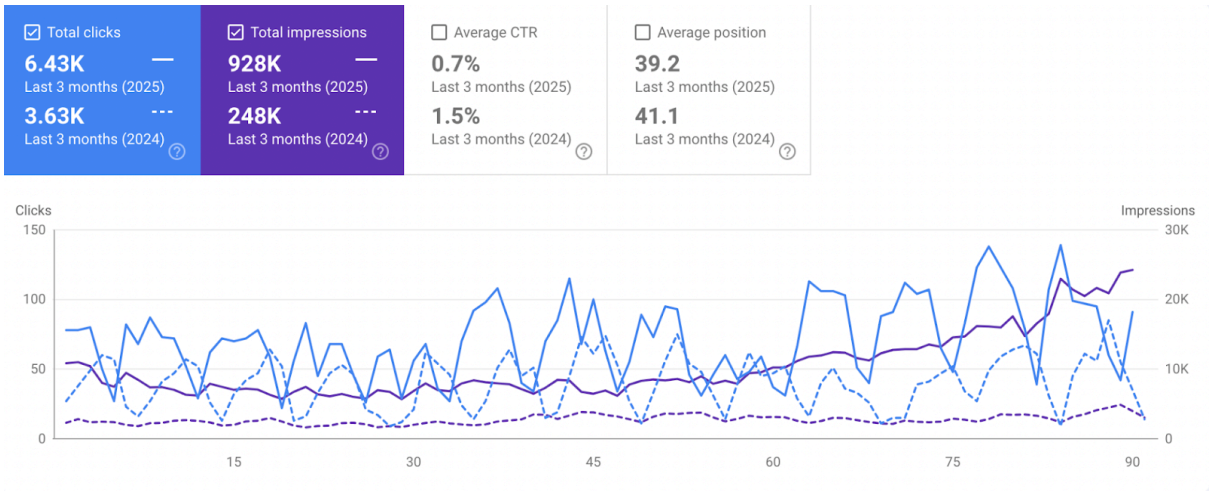

Use

3. Google Analytics (GA) or Google Search Console (GSC) Graph: Display a graph showing the website's traffic, clicks, impressions, or other available performance data.

The Best Generative Engine Optimization Company for AI Visibility

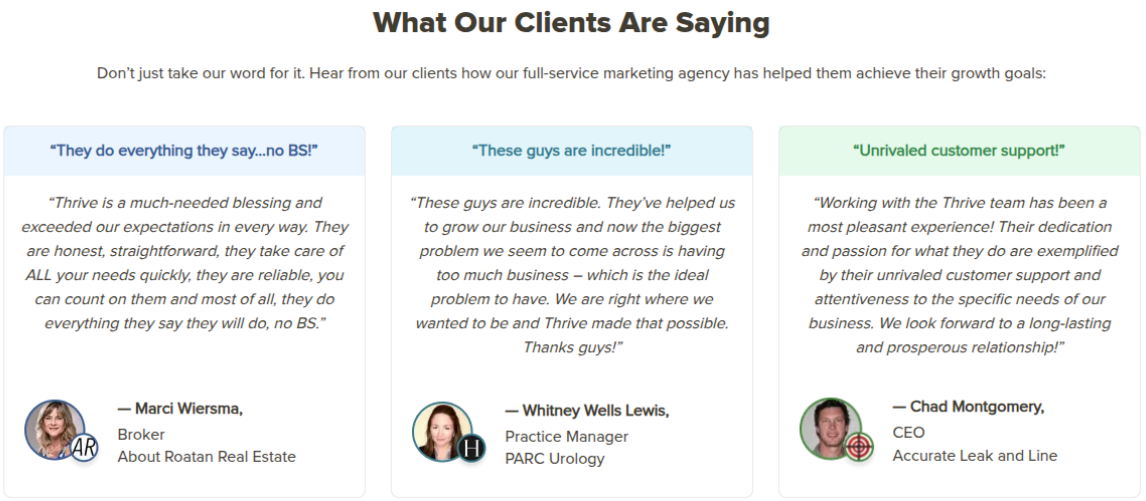

Helping Businesses Dominate AI-Powered Search

Rapid advances in generative artificial intelligence (AI) models have reshaped how content is discovered and consumed. Traditional search engine optimization (SEO) is no longer enough to reach those looking for your offerings. To stay discoverable, you need to optimize for AI search.

TechXi one of the top generative engine optimization companies for AI visibility. We've been testing and perfecting AI SEO strategies for large language models (LLMs) on our brand while other agencies experiment with your budget.

In 2026, we saw significant increases in our AI search results with our internal data showing a +5,556% increase in overall AI-driven traffic, +1,078% from ChatGPT and +404% from Gemini.
